WordPress es un software de código libre y abierto, construido por una comunidad de desarrolladores, en su mayoría voluntarios, distribuidos por todo el mundo. WordPress viene con la genial licencia que cambiará el mundo, la licencia GPL.

0. Tienes la libertad de usar el programa con cualquier propósito.
1. Tienes acceso al código fuente, la libertad de estudiar cómo funciona el programa, y la libertad de cambiarlo para que haga lo que quieras.
2. Tienes la libertad de redistribuir copias del programa original y así ayudar a otros.
3. Eres libre de distribuir copias de tu versión modificada a quien quieras. Si lo haces, das la oportunidad de beneficiarse de tus cambios a toda la comunidad.

WordPress crece cuando la gente habla a sus amigos sobre él y los miles de negocios y servicios que se construyen en y alrededor de WordPress lo comparten con sus usuarios. Nos enorgullece cada vez que alguien difunde la buena nueva, simplemente asegúrate de echar un vistazo a nuestras guías de marca.

Utilizando un P2

Hola a todos. Creo que ya os vais familiarizando con el P2 bastante bien. Os cuento dos o tres cosas básicas que me ayudan mucho para utilizarlo.

- Los hilos se pueden marcar como resueltos o no resueltos, lo que hace que su seguimiento sea sencillo
- En el lateral derecho tenemos puesto un widget que centra la atención en los no resueltos, para trabajar en ellos.
- En el lateral he puesto también un widget con los miembros de los equipos. si no estás en un equipo y quieres estar, dilo por aquí y te añado al lateral correspondiente

La idea es que todos estemos enterados de lo que hace el resto en todo momento, ya que el congreso es de todos

P2 tiene varios formatos de aviso.

- El primero es el que ya conocéis, donde os llegan notificaciones al correo.
- También podéis seguir las conversaciones (os llega todo al coreo, comentarios incluidos) pinchando en "Seguir" en cada una de ellas.
- También se pueden seguir por mensajería instantánea. Yo uso http://imo.im para gestionar las redes, y tengo incluidos todos los P2 de trabajo que sigo. Toda la info la tenéis aquí http://im.wordpress.com/ pero os la resumo

1. Os autentificáis en Jabber (es un protocolo de comunicación, el mismo que usa Google Talk) con el usuario minombredeusuariodewordpress.com@im.wordpress.com y vuestra contraseña
2. Añadís como amigo a bot@im.wordpress.com
3. Le abrís una ventana y hacéis un 'help'. Os dirá cómo funciona.
4. Os suscribís a este canal: 'sub wpsevilla.wordpress.com'

También tiene otra cuestión útil. Poniendo asteriscos (*) al principio de las líneas tendremos

We added four final strings to WordPress 3.7. All of them are used to communicate update failures to users. So while they should never be used, when they are needed, it's super important for them to be accurate.

Thanks for your understanding! At this point, we're done with 3.7. Expect a release in the next 18-36 hours.

Imported posts from /events blog. The export/import is busted, and still busted, so author is wrong on a lot of stuff. I'll try to go back over the next couple of days to manually change authors, but if anyone wants to help out with some no-special-expertise-required volunteer time, would be great to have some help doing this. Any volunteers?

Update: all the authors have been updated, just need to get the gravatars re-generated based on author email, will ask on /meta.

@bi0xid: aquí puede entrar cualquiera previa petición? o es solo para la gente involucrada de verdad con la comunidad WordPress?
bi0xid 6:44 PM
Como comunidad abierta que somos, todo el que quiera puede entrar.
Al entrar se rellena un formulario donde se dice que se está de acuerdo con las normas de voluntarios para Meetups, WordCamps, y la comunidad general de WordPress.
Así que si uno está de acuerdo con las normas, tiene la puerta abierta.

WordPress Foundation

About

The WordPress Foundation is a charitable organization founded by Matt Mullenweg to further the mission of the WordPress open source project: to democratize publishing through Open Source, GPL software.

The point of the foundation is to ensure free access, in perpetuity, to the software projects we support. People and businesses may come and go, so it is important to ensure that the source code for these projects will survive beyond the current contributor base,

CAN I USE “WORDPRESS” IN AN ADWORDS OR OTHER ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN?

No.

CAN I USE “WORDPRESS” IN MY DOMAIN NAME?

No, it’s a violation of our domain policy.

CAN I USE SCREENSHOTS FROM WORDPRESS IN MY BOOK / SCREENCAST / ETC?

Yes.

If a string consists of two lines of text, separated by a , should it be;
* one string that contains the  in the translatable text
* one string where the  is exploded
* two strings, so that neither contains the
* something I haven't thought of yet?

I would vote for two strings.
tacoverdo 4:44 PM
I tend to agree with you, when the parts of the string are independent from each other when translating (as is in this example). But would you also split them up if the second sentence "needs" the first one to make sense?
xavier 4:50 PM
If the two strings need each other to work, why separate them with a BR tag (apart from stylistic reasons)?
Not that I know the answer: the issue is interesting to explore, and a definitive answer could make a nice addition to
